ANTIBIOTICS IN DENTISTRY – DOES PRESCRIBING PUT YOU AT RISK?
This presentation will discuss appropriate use of antibiotics for prevention of late joint infections and infectious endocarditis and the potential consequences of inappropriate use including acute reactions and long-term repercussions.

Howard Cowen, D.D.S., M.S., D.A.B.C.S.D., is a Professor and Director of the Geriatric and Special Needs Programs at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry. Dr. Cowen received his D.D.S. degree in 1976 and his M.S. in 1996 from the University of Iowa College of Dentistry. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Special Care Dentistry and Director of the Geriatric and Special Needs Program and Graduate Certificate Program. His primary research interests include epidemiology of oral diseases in the elderly, etiology of tooth loss, osteoporosis and fluoride intake and the oral health of nursing home residents.

PERI-IMPLANTITIS – THE NEWEST PERIODONTAL DISEASE
This presentation will address the diagnosis and treatment of peri-implant diseases, including perio-implant mucositis and peri-implantitis. Etiologic and risk factors will be discussed as well as disease prevention and therapeutic options for managing disease. A case-based approach will be used to illustrate these points.

Georgia Johnson, D.D.S., M.S., is a Professor in the Department of Periodontics at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry. Dr. Johnson received her D.D.S. degree in 1981 and her M.S. degree in Periodontics in 1983 from the University of Iowa College of Dentistry. She teaches in the predoctoral and postdoctoral dental programs and practices periodontics in the faculty practice. Dr. Johnson is an Examiner for the American Board of Periodontology (ABP) and has served as Co-Chair (2011-12) and Director (2006-12) of the ABP. She is currently a Periodontal Consultant for the American Dental Association Commission on Dental Accreditation. Dr. Johnson is an author on over 80 publications in peer reviewed journals.

THE IMPACT OF THE CHANGING HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS ON YOUR DELIVERY OF DENTAL CARE
This program will discuss the significant changes that are occurring in the medical and dental care delivery systems and how they could directly affect the clinical practice of dentistry.

Peter Damiano, D.D.S., M.P.H., is the Director of the University of Iowa Public Policy Center and a Professor in the Department of Preventive and Community Dentistry at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry. Dr. Damiano received his D.D.S. degree in 1986 from the University of Iowa College of Dentistry and his M.P.H. from the University of California, Los Angeles in 1990 while participating in the Robert Wood Johnson Dental Health Services Research Scholars Program. He is a health services researcher studying access to and quality of primary care services including dental care. Dr. Damiano is the author of over 100 journal articles and research monographs and has been principal investigator on over 50 funded research studies. He continues to be clinically active, providing dental services to patients in faculty practice.

At the completion of the entire program, participants should be able to:
- Understand when to prescribe antibiotics for prevention of late joint infections and infective endocarditis,
- Understand potential acute problems that occur from antibiotics,
- Understand the problem of antibiotic resistance,
- Describe diagnostic features of peri-implant diseases,
- Describe etiologic factors for peri-implantitis,
- Describe current therapeutic trends for management of peri-implantitis,
- Understand the changes occurring in the health care delivery system, including the development of accountable care organization and how they are incorporating dental care, and
- Understand how these delivery system changes could directly affect the expectations for the way dental care is delivered and evaluated.
GENERAL INFORMATION

The College of Dentistry and the Center for Conferences will make every reasonable effort to assure that requested continuing education programs are provided, but assumes no liability for failure to deliver beyond the refunding of any fees paid to The University of Iowa. The University of Iowa reserves the right to limit registration to the size of the available classroom space. Sponsorship of this course does not imply subject matter, product or technical endorsement. This material is offered to the profession for educational and informational purposes in a spirit of academic freedom.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION: Because of the anticipated demand for football tickets and lodging, you are urged to register as early as possible. All registrants are requested to register prior to September 2, 2016.

REGISTRATION OPTIONS: Registrations will not be accepted without payment. You may register using any of the following methods:
- Online registration, Go to: www.continueultolearn.uiowa.edu/UIConferences/ and then click on Dental Conferences
