CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAM "ALUMNI WEEKEND"

Presented by the Classes of 1976, 1986, and 1990

"New Directions for Dentistry and Dental Education"

Dr. Pete Damiano '86 and Dr. John Warren '86

Dentistry and dental education have undergone many changes in recent decades in response to new research, payment and delivery system changes, new forms of communication and improved technology. No doubt, these trends will continue, and this presentation describes new possibilities for dentistry and dental education ranging from new technologies and philosophies to potential changes in quality assurance that will help participants provide better clinical care and improve communication with patients.

Pete Damiano, DDS, MPH, is the Bernstein Professor in the Department of Preventive & Community Dentistry at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry and Dental Clinics; and Director and Distinguished Research Fellow, of the University of Iowa's Public Policy Center. Dr. Damiano received his DDS degree from the University of Iowa College of Dentistry in 1986, and his MPH from UCLA in 1990. Dr. Damiano is a health services researcher, studying access, quality and cost of health care. He is the author of more than 200 journal articles and research monographs and has been principal investigator on more than 75 funded research studies.

John Warren, DDS, MS, is a Professor in the Department of Preventive & Community Dentistry at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry and Dental Clinics. He is a 1986 DDS graduate of the College of Dentistry and received his MS in Dental Public Health from the University of Iowa in 1991. Dr. Warren has conducted research in a variety of areas, resulting in over 200 peer-reviewed publications, but his main focus has been on the epidemiology of early childhood caries. He is certified as a Diplomate of the American Board of Dental Public Health, and recently served as that board's president. Dr. Warren currently serves as President of the American Association of Public Health Dentistry.

"Considerations on When and How to Restore Prosthodontic Cases"

Dr. Terry Lindquist '90

Restorative options can make a case more or less complex. With patients living longer, it is important when treatment planning to take in consideration the longevity and complications that can occur with different treatments. This course will discuss treatment factors and treatment complications to consider when discussing options with the patient.

Terry Lindquist, DDS, MS, is an Associate Professor in Prosthodontics and Director of the Iowa Dental Advanced Standing Program at the University of Iowa College of Dentistry and Dental Clinics. She received her DDS in 1990 from the University of Iowa, her Master's in Science and Prosthodontic Certificate in 1994 from the SUNY at Buffalo. Dr. Lindquist joined the University of Iowa in 1994 as a full time faculty member. She is a member of the Executive Council of the American Prosthodontic Society.

"Partial Caries Removal: The Science and Practice"

Dr. Howard Cowen '76

Partial caries removal, also known as incomplete caries removal has become a viable and more popular therapeutic option in dentistry the past few years. Understanding the science associated with this procedure is paramount to a positive outcome. This presentation will review the scientific literature, explain the materials and conditions for positive outcomes and present clinical case studies demonstrating this procedure.

After spending four years in the US Navy and four years in private practice Dr. Howard Cowen, DDS, MS, joined the College of Dentistry faculty in 1982. He obtained a Master's in Public Health Dentistry and has been Director of the Geriatric and Special Needs Dental Program for more than 30 years. He developed and is currently the Director of the Geriatric and Special Needs Postgraduate Certificate Program and a clinical professor in the Department of Preventive and Community Dentistry. Dr. Cowen treats private patients at the College of Dentistry, with an emphasis on geriatric, medically, physically and cognitively impaired adults. He is a fellow of the American Society of Geriatric Dentistry, a diplomate of the American Board of Special Care Dentistry and is the inaugural recipient of the Delta Dental of Iowa Foundation Professorship in Geriatric & Special Needs Dentistry.

AT THE COMPLETION OF THE ENTIRE PROGRAM, PARTICIPANTS SHOULD BE ABLE TO:

Recognize the trends in dental quality assurance; and

Describe the implications of the trends in dental quality assurance on your practice and the quality of care for your patients.
