Dr. Saulo Sousa Melo Attends the 2017 ADEA Summer Program for Emerging Academic Leaders

(Left): Dr. Saulo Sousa Melo (OPRM) was in Freeport, Maine attending the 2017 American Dental Education Association (ADEA) Summer Program for Emerging Academic Leaders, which was held July 11-14, 2017.

The ADEA Summer Program for Emerging Academic Leaders is designed to provide early career faculty who show great promise as potential leaders the guidance, insight and skills needed to build an academic career. The year-long program begins in July with a highly interactive three-and-one-half day onsite session.

During the meeting, 47 fellows from 24 institutions engaged with senior leaders in dental education and worked in peer groups to discuss leadership development and other essential subjects in academic dentistry.

Following the July meeting, fellows will interact through online and other virtual experiences with their peer groups and advisors throughout the year as they develop research projects that highlight emerging trends and initiatives within academic dentistry, the profession as a whole and at ADEA member institutions. The year-long program culminates with peer group presentations of their research findings during a dedicated session at the 2018 ADEA Annual Session & Exhibition in Orlando, Florida.
Drs. Xi Chen and Lyubov Slashcheva Attend the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics 21st World Congress in San Francisco

Dr. Xi Chen, Preventive & Community Dentistry, and Dr. Lyubov Slashcheva, a geriatric & special needs/dental public health resident, attended the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics 21st World Congress in San Francisco.

Dr. Chen presented a paper he co-authored with colleagues from the Gerontological Society of America (GSA), "Oral Health: An Essential Element of Healthy Aging." Dr. Chen was also a leader in the GSA Oral Health Interest Group.

Dr. Slashcheva presented a poster, "Oral Health Integration in Long-Term Care Settings: Lessons from a Virginia Pilot Program."

Student Affairs Office Hosts 30 Junior High Students Attending a Health Science Camp

On Thursday, July 20, the College of Dentistry Student Affairs Office hosted 30 junior high students attending a health science camp through St. Ambrose University (Davenport, Iowa).

Cathy Skotowski, Pediatric Dentistry, facilitated the visit by explaining the field of dentistry and orchestrating a hands-on component to their visit. Alison Christiansen (D4), Beck Schneider (D2) and Liz Skotowski (D1) aided in an impressions activity and quiz. The group was energetic and eager to learn!

Attend the Bridging the Gap: axiUm Consortium Midyear Meeting!

You are cordially invited to attend the Bridging the Gap: the axiUm Consortium Midyear Meeting, which will be held at the Marriott Hotel and Conference Center, September 27-29, 2017.

Please note the following:

- The College of Dentistry will pay for your registration fee. Please contact your department’s primary administrator, if you would like to register for the meeting so it can be charged to your department’s procurement card.
- The conference does NOT qualify for CE credit.
- You must register so there will be adequate food for attendees. To register and check out the agenda, go to www.dentistry.uiowa.edu/dental-consortiums.
- Although most dental schools use axiUm, the meeting will concentrate on processes vs. the software used.
- If you are not registering for the meeting but would like to attend the entertainment, faculty and staff are welcome -- Go to www.dentistry.uiowa.edu/dental-consortiums and look for the Entertainment link where ticket information is available.
- A separate Revenue Cycle Management course will be given for alumni and/or their office staff on Friday, September 29, from 7:30-noon, at the Marriott Hotel & Conference Center in Coralville. Members of the CoD business office will give presentations illustrating best practices for successful revenue cycle management.

For additional information, please contact Lynn Conway, Dental Business Office (lynn-conway@uiowa.edu; 335-8093).
