UI Researcher Receives Grant for Innovative Cartilage Regeneration Project

The American Association of Orthodontists Foundation awarded Dr. Kyungsup Shin and his team a $30,000 grant for their research on using extracellular vesicles to regenerate condylar fibrocartilage in the jaw (temporomandibular joint). This research lays the groundwork for new non-invasive treatments for degenerative jaw disorders. Find out more about the project on the College of Dentistry website.

UI Professor Mentors Students to Research Excellence

Under the leadership of Dr. Teresa Marshall, the UI Dental Student Research program has continued to flourish. But the success of the larger program doesn't tell the whole story. Dr. Marshall has also been an important mentor for many students, four of whom have gone on to win student research awards from the IADR Nutrition Group, including most recently Madison Kasperek. Read more about Dr. Marshall's students on the College of Dentistry website.
